

We Are Ready:
Supporting Fertility
Care with Precision
Courier Services

The Challenge

Seattle Sperm Bank faced growing demand across its clinic network, requiring:

- Reliable routed deliveries with time-sensitive expectations
- Specialized handling for biological materials requiring strict temperature control
- Clear communication and rapid response to delivery updates or changes
- Scalable support to match expanding geographic coverage

Their previous delivery system lacked consistency and required significant internal coordination. They needed a professional team that could deliver with clinical precision and care.

Our Solution

American Expediting designed a dedicated routed courier program tailored to their needs.

- Scheduled deliveries with consistent drivers familiar with clinic protocols
- Chain-of-custody documentation and temperature compliance maintained end-to-end
- Proactive communication from dispatch and operations to handle updates and fluctuations
- Scalable framework that supports route expansion across new regions

The Result

- Improved delivery consistency across clinic network
- Reduced internal workload for shipment coordination
- Increased confidence in time-definite, temperature-sensitive logistics
- Strengthened distribution capabilities to support ongoing growth

The Impact

In reproductive healthcare, every delivery is deeply personal. American Expediting provides Seattle Sperm Bank with the confidence and care needed to serve patients with precision, reliability, and empathy.

"American Expediting and the team have greatly assisted our company with their efficient procedures and correspondences. Our distribution capabilities have been much improved since we began working with them. We highly recommend their services!"

— Seattle Sperm Bank

Because in fertility logistics, timing isn't just everything—it's everything to someone.